2400 BAUD COMMODORE-READY MODEM.

At last! High-speed communications in a modem that is completely Commodore compatible! The Aprtek Minimodem-C24 looks just like the Minimodem-C, our best-selling modem ever, but works at speeds up to 2400 baud. Think how much faster you will be able to send and receive information from bulletin boards, services like CompuServe, and other computers.

Both the Minimodem-C and -C24 are completely Hayes compatible (not just partially compatible like the 1670 and some Avatex models) and 1670 compatible. This means they'll work with ALL communications software for the 64, 64C, and 128. Key features include seven status indicators, Busy Detect, DTR signal support, High-Speed Detect Line, and Auto Answer/Auto Dial. Includes Multiterm 64 and 128 software so you can start communicating right away, plus a free trial hour on CompuServe! Full-year warranty.

"Performed flawlessly...Everything I could ask of a modem."

—COMPUTE's Gazette

The Amiga version of the Minimodem is equipped with a female connector to plug directly into the Amiga 500 or 2000. It needs no external wall plug for power, and it uses the Amiga's audio output for maximum fidelity. From Aprtek.

Two Great Ways To Expand Your Computer's Memory!

GEORAM— The Wait is Over!

$124⁹⁵

"A really impressive upgrade...it can practically eliminate the...disk access you normally encounter. I wouldn't be without RAM expansion."

—Run Magazine

"My RAM expander is the most cost-effective purchase I've ever made. Try one, and you'll never go back to magnetic media."

—Computer Shopper

"The difference between operating...on a 640K machine instead of a 128K machine could be compared to flying a jet and walking. Tasks that would normally cause a delay while the disk was accessed run at the speed of light..."

—Commodore Magazine

How fast is GEORAM? Believe it or not, GEORAM's disk transfer rate is actually 35 times faster than the 1541, 1571, or 1581 disk drive. This means that screens redraw in a flash, and that your Commodore doesn't waste time spinning disks looking for data.

If you use your computer for GEOS productivity applications like GeoWrite, GeoPaint, GeoPublish, or any of the other outstanding titles, you know these are the best programs ever written for the Commodore. GEORAM makes the GEOS family of programs faster and more powerful than ever. (For a complete list of GEOS applications, see pages 32 and 33.)

When you buy GEORAM from TENEX, you get the GEORAM unit itself plus a pair of disks to convert your existing GEOS (1.2, 1.3, OR 2.0) to GEOS 2.0 or, a special version of GEOS designed to take full advantage of the 512K of memory in GEORAM. Both C-64 and C-128 versions are included, as is a comprehensive manual.

Don't sit there drumming your fingers waiting for your disk drive—call now to be the first on your block to move up to a new world of speed and power in Commodore computing.

GEORAM (requires GEOS)

88604 $124.95

NOTE: GEORAM is designed for use ONLY in the GEOS environment—it cannot be used with non-GEOS software. For a complete selection of GEOS products, see pages 32-33.

1750 Clone Supercharge Your C64 or C128!

Works with all Your 1750 Compatible Software!

THE 1750 CLONE. When Commodore designed its 1750 RAM expansion, Commodore owners snapped them up. For their money, they got a full 512K of RAM. More important, they were able to dramatically improve the performance of their software.

As good as the 1750 was, there was just one problem: Commodore didn't make enough of them. In fact, 1750s have been unavailable for more than a year.

At last, TENEX has a solution: the 1750 Clone. The 1750 Clone offers 512K just like the 1750, and works with all software that is 1750 compatible (e.g., GEOS, Paperclip III, and Maverick). Furthermore, you can use it to create a RAM disk to store files or programs for lightning-fast access. (Unlike GEORAM, the 1750 Clone works with non-GEOS software.)

Make the big switch: add another 512K of memory to your system today, and watch your software fly!

IMPORTANT NOTE. The 1750 works with both the C64/64C and the C128. To use with the C64/64C requires a heavy-duty power supply (not included with the 1750 Clone—see below). To use with the C128 or 128D, no additional power supply is needed—the standard factory power supply is fine.

1750 Clone	89517	$199.95
C64/64C Power supply for use with the 1750 Clone	89503	$44.95

BALLISTIX. It isn't soccer. It isn't pinball. It's an awesome ball game that showcases the Amiga's graphics, sound, and speech. The action is nonstop as you fire 3-D balls to knock the target ball into the opponent's goal. RAVE REVIEWS

"Professional quality graphics program... excellent line of light pens." "There is no question in my mind you won't be disappointed"

—Commodore Magazine

"The best drawing program around"

—Midnight Gazette Software

FLEXIDRAW VERSION 5.5. This version of the ultimate drawing program has more features than ever. You can still use a light pen as your input tool (sold separately— see below), or you can use a mouse, joystick, or Koala pad. Whether you are doing simple free-hand sketches or complex CAD-type drawings, Flexi-draw has the power you need with its top-quality, hi-res graphic input and editing system. The master disk has the main drawing routines for use with the light pen, as well as sample drawing library, symbol templates, and a music synthesizer program. A programming mode lets you access the drawing routines from BASIC. The sprite editor/ animator adds a great plus to FLEXIDRAW— there's no easier way to edit sprites than with a light pen. The most powerful feature is the ability to use a set of symbols (yours or ours) which can be moved to a second work screen and added to a drawing.

Amiga for VIDEO

What do thousands of video hobbyists across the country have in common with network television graphics professionals? They both use the Amiga to create outstanding video effects.

The Amiga offers users, both professional and hobbyist, the means to create an incredible range of video effects at a system cost far below other video production equipment.

Here are just a few of the things that can be done:

- Create and superimpose titles, captions, and subtitles;
- Scroll, fade, flip, or wipe titles;
- Digitize and store photos or video images;
- Edit or enhance stored images;
- Create animated sequences;
- Combine animation with "live" video;
- Produce special effects, including wipes, fades, checkerboards, split screens, spinning frames, and more.

One of the tools that can be used with the Amiga to produce these effects is the "genlock." A genlock is a device that allows you to combine computer-generated graphics with live or prerecorded video. A genlock, for instance, would be needed to superimpose titles on a video of your vacation. (Without a genlock, the titles could be added, but would have to be inserted as individual video segments; the titles and the vacation video could not be on the screen at the same time.)

Appropriate software is also necessary. No other computer has as much video software available, including title generators, paint programs, digitizing and editing programs, animation software, etc. To round out your system, you can also add specialized hardware for scanning and digitizing artwork or images, creating unusual effects, etc. Depending on your objectives, you'll also need at least one VCR, and perhaps a video camera or camcorder. TENEX Computer Express is your one-stop shopping source for all your Amiga and desktop video needs!

Enter The Exciting World Of Telecomputing!

One of the most popular uses of home computers is to "talk" to other computers and computer users. The diversity of on-line services is staggering—from the latest news to airline schedules, from stock prices to interactive adventure games, from electronic mail to patent searches—all you need is your computer, a modem, terminal software, and a phone line. In addition to the national on-line databases, like the Source, CompuServe, Dow Jones, and others, there are hundreds or even thousands of local "bulletin boards" run by user groups or individual enthusiasts. Telecomputing is so much fun and offers such a variety of activities that for many users it is the principal use of their home computer.

TENEX Turbo 286/12 Computers

Compare these features and prices and you will see why our Turbo 286/12 computers have become runaway best sellers. Our feature-packed AT-compatible systems set a new value standard at this performance level—real workhorses for business or advanced personal use. All models include both a 1.44MByte, 3.5" floppy drive and a 1.2MByte, 5.25" floppy drive to give you compatibility with all current software formats. MS-DOS 4.01, now with a simple but powerful file control "shell," is also included with every system.

The heart of the system is a genuine Intel 80286 microprocessor. Dual speeds of 8 or 12MHz are switchable by hardware or software. And, of course, the systemboard is already socketed should you desire a coprocessor for math-intensive operations. System performance is 11.7 times faster than IBM's XT (Norton's Computing Index). Full 1MByte of fast 80ns RAM comes installed on the systemboard, providing zero wait state performance.

Additional features include parallel printer port, two serial ports, lithium-powered real-time calendar/clock, and our Chicony enhanced 101-key keyboard.

Memory is expandable to a total of 8MByte RAM on the systemboard. The mini case (as configured) has available one half-height, 5.25" drive bay, three 16-bit, and three 8-bit expansion slots for future enhancements. Also includes an embedded dual floppy drive controller. The hefty 200 watt power supply can support all of your present and future peripherals.

Convenient reset and turbo buttons, LED indicator lights, and keylock are located on the front panel. Power supplies are UL approved and will function with 115 or 230VAC, 50/60Hz power, and are capable of powering all the peripherals you may add in the future. Compatible with Novell, Unix, and OS/2 as well as DOS. All systems are tested for 24 hours and quality assured. All TENEX systems carry a one-year warranty and are FCC approved.

Choosing the Right Printer!

Don't be confused by the wide selection of printers available in today's market. Here are a few pointers to help you select the right printer for your present and future needs.

Commodore-Ready vs. Parallel. Each printer we sell has a connector on its back or side to which a printer cable or interface attaches. Most of the printers we sell are "parallel" (also called "Centronics") printers. Two printers, the Star NX-1000C and NX-1000C Rainbow, are "Commodore-ready" printers.

Commodore-ready printers come complete with a cable to plug directly into your Commodore system. No other interface or cable is needed.

Parallel printers are designed to connect to IBM-compatible, Amiga, and other computers. To connect them to a Commodore system, you need a parallel interface like those shown on page 46. Choose a parallel printer if you think that you may want, either currently or in the future, to use the printer with a non-Commodore computer such as an IBM compatible or an Amiga. You may also have to choose a parallel printer if you need features, such as 24-wire printing, not available on a Commodore-ready printer.

Choose a Commodore-ready printer if you want to minimize your out-of-pocket cost and if you intend to use the printer only with your Commodore system.

24-Wire vs. 9-Wire Printing. All dot-matrix print is composed of tiny dots created by wires in the printhead. The quality of dot-matrix printing has improved remarkably since the early days when the dots were clearly visible. Today, even 9-wire printers are capable of excellent near-letter quality. For the ultimate in dot-matrix printing, 24-wire printers offer even smaller dots and higher resolution. This means that the letter-quality characters of a 24-wire printer will be slightly sharper than those of a 9-wire printer. We recommend 9-wire printers for most home, school, and light office use. If you intend to use the printer for extensive business correspondence or other applications where an extra polished look is important, consider a 24-wire printer.

Speed. Each printer we sell is rated for speed in characters per second (cps). Note that the speed of each printer will vary depending on whether it is printing in draft mode, near-letter quality, boldface, etc. All of the printers we sell are fast enough for home, school, and light office use. If you frequently print long documents, print primarily in near-letter quality, or print many short documents, you may find that one of the faster printers will save you time and increase your productivity.

Buffer. All of the printers we sell contain at least a small buffer. The buffer is an electronic holding area for data sent from the computer. Typically, the computer can send data much faster than the printer can actually print it. The bigger the buffer in the printer is, the sooner the computer can finish its task and be available for other uses. (If you do a lot of printing, particularly of longer documents, you may wish to consider an external buffer like the one shown on page 47; this can really enhance your productivity by freeing up the computer long before the printer is finished printing.)

NX-2415 PRINTER. With draft speed of 200 cps and letter-quality speed of 67 cps, the NX-2415 is the perfect printer for all of your data and/or word processing needs. Other time-saving features include automatic paper loading/parking, an easy-to-use front panel with LED indicators, and a variety of typestyles. An 11K buffer is standard and resolution is at 360x360 dpi. Compatible with Epson LQ-1050 and IBM Proprinter XL24. Use with Commodore requires parallel interface.

Dear TENEX:

We recently had to replace our older disk drive and ordered one from TENEX. We have been very pleased with the performance of the Excelsator Plus. Anytime we have sent for programs, they have come in record time.

Enclosed are two pictures. One is of Susan Unruh, 27, working at her C64. Susan works at this computer to help her with eye-hand coordination skills. She has Down Syndrome, but is very adept at using the computer. The other photo is Sarah Lowry, 5, using a pre-school program from TENEX to match her upper and lower case letters and to do simple mathematics.

Say NO To The Mail Order Tax!

As a mail-order consumer, you should be aware that Congress is considering legislation that would require you to pay sales tax on your out-of-state, mail-order purchases. This would affect you in two ways. The first, and most direct effect on your pocketbook is that your purchases from out-of-state, mail-order firms would cost more. One of the reasons consumers shop via mail order is to save money—fortunately, consumers; this proposed law would raise their out-of-pocket cost by as much as 8% depending on their state sales tax.

The second, and less obvious effect, is that mail-order firms' costs would increase due to much greater paperwork requirements; for example, we would have to file 46 sales tax returns instead of our current one. And we are one of the fortunate ones—we're fully computerized. Some firms with less advanced order processing systems might be forced out of business.

The legislators who support this bill are presenting it as a tax on out-of-state firms who are not paying their share of state taxes. While the bill is certainly a burden on out-of-state firms, it is really a tax on you, the consumer who chooses to shop by mail.

If you do not want to pay sales tax on items you order from out-of-state firms, please write your Congressman and Senators today. Unless they know that the voters in their districts care, they will pass this subtle but costly tax.

Cartridge Port Extender Cable

CARTRIDGE PORT EXTENDER CABLE. Are you cramped for space behind your computer? Is it hard to reach your cartridge port to plug-in or swap cartridges? This handy cable is your solution.

The cartridge port on the C64 and C128 is unfortunately located in a somewhat awkward position—horizontally in the back, where it is hard to reach and impossible to see. Many users have installed cartridge expanders, which not only let you switch cartridges easily but also place them vertically for easier access. The cartridge expander, though, takes up a few more inches of table space—no problem for most users, but a drawback for those working in tight quarters. The cable connects to the cartridge port in back of the computer and lets you plug in your cartridge to its other end. Since the cable is flexible, you can locate the cartridge up to 11" away for easier access and more efficient use of table space. Not for use with memory expansion modules.

Double Your Storage By Using The Unused Side Of Your Disks!

DISK DOUBLER. The Commodore 64 uses single-sided disks. As you may have noticed, however, these disks actually have magnetic media on both sides. Even though the back side of a single-sided disk isn't certified, in almost all cases it is identical to the front side in quality and capability. With our Disk Doubler, you can punch a new write-protect notch on the opposite side of the disk and use the "hidden" second side. The Disk Doubler is easy to use—just slide the disk in, squeeze the button, and a perfectly located notch is punched in the disk jacket. No measuring, no guesswork... the notch is in exactly the right place each time! This handy device will pay for itself the first few times you use it. Sug. Retail $14.95

Dear TENEX:
I have recently been searching for Dragon's Lair for my Amiga. I called numerous stores, but they all seemed to be out of the game or way out of my price range. Then, I looked through your Christmas '89 issue and, much to my surprise, it was in there for $20 less than most stores were asking.
